CHEAP TREATMENT.

Ore From an Abandoned Mine, Reduced by a Little Smelter. Revives the Camp.

The following letters attest the regard in which the National Ore & Reduction company of Durango, Mexico, are held by mining men, and the effect of their machinery in aiding the development of mining sections by reason of furnishing cheap home ore treatment:

"This mineral belt is destined to become one of the most prosperous west of the Rocky mountains before the expiration of the present year. The E. & E. mine, that was at one time in its history practically abandoned, is now unfolding in great shape. The little five-ton National Matte smelter has produced over $6,000 worth of base bullion last month and bids fair to outdo itself the present month. We are under many obligations for the God-send of the little smelter, because it has revived the camp within these few weeks, that will place it in the category of the great bullion producing districts of the Western continent."—Oregon Long Creek News.

Monterey, Mex.—Gentlemen: "Your Handy Prospector's Furnace arrived at our mines April 23d. We put it in immediate operation on our sulphide gold and silver ores, which we heretofore shipped away at an expense of $16 per ton for freight charges. "We can truthfully say that this Prospector's Furnace has paid for itself every day since its operation, and as it has given us such good results from our base ores by converting them into merchantable base bullion at so comparatively little expense. "We telegraphed you May 28 a remittance of $500 to apply as part payment on a 20-ton plant complete, less power, and hereby substitute our order for the same, and hope that it will do as well or still better. Please direct shipment as before to Guaymas, Sonora, and oblige. Yours sincerely, "EDGAR C. PARRAJUA."

It's absolutely guaranteed for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and all Throat and Lung diseases 50c and $1.00 at W. E. Warren & Co.'s. Trial bottles free.

Game is Plentiful

John H. Bright who passed through here yesterday from Roswell going to Frensal, called at this office. He stated that in coming from Roswell he shot and killed two lobe wolves and three antelopes. He said game was plenty in the section of country he traveled over. He shot the wolves and antelopes close to the road, as he had no time to hunt. He saw a great many tracks of deer in the sand. He will return next week with his brother on a hunting expedition.—Tularosa Democrat.

DID AND DIDN'T.

One Paper Builds a Depot and the Other Reliable Sheet Tears It Down.

With all the lack of new railroads that are headed for El Paso, extensions of lines now in, contemplated local improvements in the depots and accommodation have been overlooked. The "White Oaks" company has been saying little in this railroad bustle, but has been improving the time by getting plans and grounds ready for a fine new depot in this city. The location is to be opposite the water tank, near the present depot site. The structure is to be handsome and commodious. Plans have already been drawn and ground laid out. Gravel is to be hauled next week from Fort Bliss to fill in where the depot is to be built, and the ground surrounding is also to be raised and arranged with a view to making the handsome building is to be used for baggage purposes. The News' informant stated that by January 1st the ground will be broken and the work well under way. While the plans have not been given out from headquarters, or any intimation that a building is in contemplation, the information comes from a source that gives it reliability. The "White Oaks" people have always shown a progressive spirit, and their step in this direction may be an incentive to the other roads to build new depots in place of the unsightly structures which now disgrace the heart of El Paso.—El Paso News.

THE STATEMENT DENIED.

The statement of another paper that the White Oaks railroad was preparing to erect a fine depot just below the present edifice is denied. Harry Alexander, assistant general freight and passenger agent of the company, said Tuesday that the company was not going to build anything here for some time. There was no order out to haul gravel and the company did not need a new depot as they had the finest in El Paso now.—Herald.
